PERIODICALS DIRECTORY

THE BULLETIN OF THE PUBLIC AFFAIRS INFORMATION SERVICE

Articles in approximately one thousand periodicals are indexed in the 1931 annual of the P.A.I.S. referred to constantly in this Directory.

Published cooperatively since 1914 by an association of libraries the weekly and bi-monthly cumulated bulletins of the P.A.I.S. furnish an indispensable index to current economic, business and statistical information found in periodicals, books, government documents and pamphlets, including foreign publications in English.

Subscribers to the P.A.I.S. include public libraries, great and small, state, university and college libraries, special libraries. The wealth of material indexed in the Bulletin makes it valuable to every type of library. The cooperative method of publication reduces the cost to a minimum.

Write for sample copies, together with terms for cumulated and weekly bulletins.

WHEAT STUDIES of the Food Research Institute

10 issues yearly, monthly except
April and October. Subscription price, $10.00 per year

Each annual volume contains (1) three surveys of current developments in the world wheat situation, each covering four months; (2) a comprehensive review of a year's developments; and (3) six special studies of important topics such as production and trade in different producing countries, the factors influencing wheat prices, international trade in wheat and flour, and national policies toward wheat. The studies, with their ample statistical background, are invaluable both for current and for permanent library reference.

The two thousand librarians who last year awarded their periodical orders to us know that our interest doesn't lag when we receive their check—in fact, it quickens! In addition to assuring the regular delivery of the periodicals by the publishers throughout the term of the subscription, we present our clients with the three most helpful tools devised for periodical librarians during the past decade: The 10 Outstanding Magazine Article Poster; Periodica—the monthly record of births and deaths in the magazine world; and, The Periodical Handbook. These services are free to our clients.

As for our prices for all American and Foreign periodicals and newspapers—due to our tremendous volume of business they are so amazingly low that one librarian wrote after receiving our estimate, "I'm tempted to say this year my magazines will cost me less than nothing!"

The source of our business is as diversified as the library field—librarians of corporations, universities, public schools, city librarians, Y.M.C.A.'s, whose orders range from $8,000 to $10 ask us to attend to their subscriptions. Regardless of the intricacy of your list or the size of your order you may depend on us to do our work efficiently and economically.

Won't you permit us to estimate the cost of your list this year?

PREFACE

THE need for an up-to-date classified list of foreign and domestic periodicals has long been felt. This directory is planned for those interested in business and industry as well as for librarians of all types and sizes of libraries, not only as a tool for reference but also as an aid in the selection of titles for purchase.

The list does not aim to be exhaustive. No attempt at evaluation has been made, but the 6,000 titles included represent the periodicals published in the United States and foreign countries, especially in England, France and Germany, which have been found most useful in American collections. Occasionally titles which seem to have limited or ephemeral value are listed, their inclusion being justified by their specialized interest. Annuals, monographs and many proceedings and transactions are omitted. Only such titles as appear at regular or stated periods of less than a year are considered.

In this volume subjects which could not be included at this printing but of which recent bibliographies exist, are listed with their bibliographies in the Bibliographic Section with "See references" from the main list.

The arrangement is alphabetical by subject. The periodicals are grouped according to a broad classification under which minor subjects are brought out in italics.

The entries include full title, date of origin, frequency, size, price, publisher, place and indication of supplements. The price, whenever possible, is given in the currency of the country wherein the periodical is published.

Indexing services are indicated by abbreviations. Abbreviations are also used to indicate the general characteristics of various periodicals.

The selection of titles has been compared with other lists in specialized fields. It is expected that from time to time revision and enlargement will be made as may prove necessary.

The directory consists of two parts:

Part I. Classified list of periodicals with a key to subjects and title index.

Part II. Bibliographies of Periodical Literature; Lists, Indices and Directories.

Part II, the Bibliographic Section, has been compiled by Karl Brown and regarding its scope and arrangement his statement is quoted:

"Making no attempt at completeness, this compilation seeks to include all general current guides and such special tools as would seem to be needed. For additional titles, both current and historic, the user is referred to the section called Bibliography in which the more important aids are listed. The compiler wishes to express his appreciation to the works of Mudge and Schneider and Minto, to the Index Bibliographicus and to the Internationale Bibliographie des Buch- und Bibliothekswesens, upon which he has leaned heavily in some sections.

Of the individual bibliographies, few are back of 1920 and nothing is earlier than 1900.

The style follows that of Part I with slight adaptations for non-serial titles in arrangement and information. Prices are the latest, in some cases merely indicative, as for example with German annuals, they vary from year to year. When prices are not given the lists are either gratis or have never appeared 'in the trade.'

Some titles are obviously more important than others, and the compiler has in a few instances tried to indicate this by arrangement and size of type.

Cross references are used throughout, with the hope that they will make the section more useful."

The editor is greatly indebted to a number of librarians and specialists for their valuable assistance in giving advice on many subjects, and to the administration of the New York Public Library for permission to use material and records from the various divisions.

A debt of gratitude is due the staff of the Periodicals Division for their untiring co-operation, and special acknowledgment is made to Mrs. Leonora K. V. Larlham and Miss Cornelia R. Cochrane for their constant interest and for help which they most generously extended as the Directory developed.

To Mr. Karl Brown the editor wishes to express thanks and appreciation for preparing the excellent bibliography which forms the second part of the volume.
